ESTEPONA:

Estepona is one of the most western municipalities of the Costa del Sol, its located between Marbella and Manilva, at the foot of the Sierra Bermeja, a mountainous formation that protects it from the occasional cold winds and favors a smooth microclimate throughout the year.

The old town center retains the typical architecture of an Andalusian village, dotted with balconies full of flowers that stand out against the white houses. The municipality has become a tourist town of first order thanks to its magnificent beaches and the amount of facilities and quality services offered to visitors. These include the Equestrian Art School of the Costa del Sol, the Selwo Adventure Park and the golf courses installed in its municipal area, as well as the possibility of practicing activities from hiking to paragliding.
